
Since its founding in 1977, the Bertelsmann Stiftung's mission has been to identify social trends and problems in order to develop sustainable solutions.

Reinhard Mohn firmly believed that wealth entails social responsibility. For many decades, the foundation's work has been recognized and respected because its projects make a difference in people's lives and strengthen society.

In this video, we introduce you to the work of our foundation.