SGI – Quality of democracy and governance in the EU: sobering results before the European elections

The quality of democracy and governance has deteriorated in many European countries. This is clearly shown by the SGI results. Which states are particularly affected and why? And what does that mean for the European elections? With expert statements by Wolfgang Merkel (Director democracy and democratization, WZB Berlin Social Science Center and SGI advisor) and Shada Islam (Director for Europe & Geopolitics, friends of europe).
