

Bertelsmann Stiftung (ed.)

The Impact of Brexit

Views from the German and British business communities

1. edition 2016 (PDF)

Free of charge

↓ Download

Four out of five business leaders in the UK and Germany have clearly expressed their opposition to the hotly debated idea that the United Kingdom should withdraw from the European Union. If the withdrawal were to go ahead, the business leaders predict numerous negative effects for national labor markets as well as for revenues and investments within their own sectors and businesses. Those are the findings from a recent survey by the British Economist Intelligence Unit, carried out on behalf of the Bertelsmann Stiftung.

Project

- Global Economic Dynamics \(GED\)